Cricket's

Dance.... It's not just what we do.... It's what we love!

Volume 16 Issue 3

March 2009

Q. Who was the dancer who was so ugly his teacher told him to move fast so the audience would not see him clearly?

A. Jules Perrot

Do it big, do it right,
 and do it with style.

Good luck Cricket's Dance Company Competitors!

In the next few months several of our dancers will be competing in dance competitions—the first in Maryland, BravO! Talent Competition at Goucher College March 6-8th. Our competitors are—in the Mini Company Morgan Kopp, Averie Snader, Carissa Stief, Petites—Jocelyn Elzer, Kayla Kolb, Emily Kreider, and Sarai Raia, and our Junior Company, Alyssa Balmer and Harley Ditzler. You got a sneak-peek at some of the dances they'll be competing during the Ins-studio Performances in January—the Mini's will dance a Tap number—School days, and a Lyrical—Pretty Ponies, Petites dance a ballet Piece, Tarantella, and a tap dance to Banana Phone, and the Jrs will dance a character ballet to Rhapsody in Blue and an Open dance to Me and My Shadow

June Show, Saturday June 13th, 2:30pm

Detailed June Show information will be handed out in April, but in the meantime, here are some things to think about— Volunteers are needed for—class chaperones (moms) are needed for several classes. Ushers (show people to their seats & hand out programs), stagehands (move props on and off stage), ticket sales— all your help in the June show makes the show run smoothly. Please see someone in the office to sign up. Remember, you can still watch your dancer perform when you help back stage!! Thanks for all of your help and support.

A name list will be posted on the bulletin board in the waiting area—please 1) check to make sure you're included, & 2) that your name is spelled correctly, as this information will be in the program and printed on the T-shirts.
