Hello Everyone!

So many fun things happening at the studio this month—

Bun Week— dancers will learn how to do the traditional Ballet bun. We welcome parents to join us, but we are also encouraging our young dancers to be independent and do this by themselves. I know at first the buns will not be perfect, but with practice they'll be old pros and getting ready for class goes a little quicker. Just like the responsibility of packing their dance bag with all that is needed for class.

Two Social media challenges this month—

Take 😊 a picture of yourself outside of the studio and tag us on social media of yourself dancing during your every-day activities... reading a book, reaching for a snack on a high shelf... and bonus if you video yourself doing “temps leve pas de bourree glissade grande jete” in the grocery aisle!
